Finding Aid for

Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War. Records.

Collection # 025

September 2009 version

Abstract

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War Manuscripts include an unpublished history of the Mrs. Byron R. Pierce Tent #17, which was a local Grand Rapids, Michigan chapter of the national DUV organization. The Tent was formed in 1919 and performed various duties to honor Civil War veterans. The Tent raised and dispersed funds appropriate to Civil War commemorations and frequently held social events at veterans' homes. In addition to the history of the club, the manuscripts contain minutes and financial records.

History

In June 1919, while returning from the Michigan Department Convention, the National President of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Estella Moore, appointed Mrs. Ida M. Glasgow to secure a new Tent (local chapter) in Grand Rapids before the National Convention in September 1919. On August 26, 1919, 30 people met at the home of Grace Van Winkle and the Tent was organized with 26 charter members and 2 obligated members. The selected name was Mrs. Byron R. Pierce Tent #17. At the time, General Pierce was the oldest living commanding officer of the Civil War and still active in a government position in Grand Rapids. The Tent raised and dispersed funds appropriate to Civil War commemorations and frequently held social events at veterans homes.

Scope and Content

The collection contains only one series, the Manuscript series. The manuscript is primarily a history of the Tent but also includes the minutes and financial records of the 1919 and 1920 club years. Complete membership lists and other pertinent information also appears.
