Title	Grand Rapids and nature collection
Date	no date
Extent	0.21 Linear feet
Language	English
Abstract	The Grand Rapids and Nature Collection is a small devised collection, newly created to bring together small accessions which document the flora and fauna in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Items held in other collections already created, relevant to this topic, may be cross referenced here, as time allows.

Scope and Contents note

The scope of this collection is intended to be broad, to encompass a wide range of miscellaneous holdings related to the subject area of trees and plants and their conservation, or bird, insects and animals, as well as the conservation of these living environments. Also included would be the study of minerals, and the fossils which document earlier living creatures trapped in the earth. Greater Grand Rapids and Kent County holdings will be included.
